

Student Volunteer Awards

Dr. Deborah Mitton Award

Han Kim

During his four years at St. Malachy's Memorial High School Han Kim had excelled in the area of science and mathematics. Upon graduation he will enter the Bachelor of Science program at Dalhousie in pursuit of a career in the pharmaceutical field.

Han is a dedicated volunteer, contributing over 200 hours of service to the Saint John Regional Hospital within an eight month period. Han volunteers because he enjoys interacting with patients, working in a team atmosphere, and knowing that he is contributing to an enhanced hospital experience. Han also volunteers at the Saint John Multicultural Centre, the Imperial Theatre, and the Saint John Public Library. He is also musical and enjoys playing piano and drums.

Teresa Casey Award

Huy Do

Huy Do, is a well-rounded young man. A high honours student at Harbour View High School, he is a member of the School's soccer and basketball teams, and he developed an athletic program for international students that he mentored. He volunteers regularly at the Saint John Regional Hospital as an escort and he participates in, and assists with, recreational activities for patients. He also volunteers at a local nursing home.

Huy Do is seen by others as a true team player. He used his life experiences to teach others and support his peers while excelling himself. Huy Do aspires to be a medical doctor. Huy also enjoys tennis, and badminton.

Peggy Bulmer Award for Volunteer Excellence

Emma Crowley

Emma Crowley has been a regular volunteer at the Saint John Regional Hospital since 2009. She is known for her outstanding commitment and friendliness. Although studying in France this past year, she came into the hospital to volunteer during her Christmas vacation when she was back in the city. While in France she volunteered in the pediatric department and the pediatric emergency room.

It is with fierce determination and intelligence that Emma pursues her goal of becoming a trauma surgeon. Emma maintains a 4.2 GPA at the University of New Brunswick. In addition to her volunteerism, Emma is a lifeguard, a violinist, a tutor, and a member of her church choir.